Falconer School

Achieving the extraordinary together

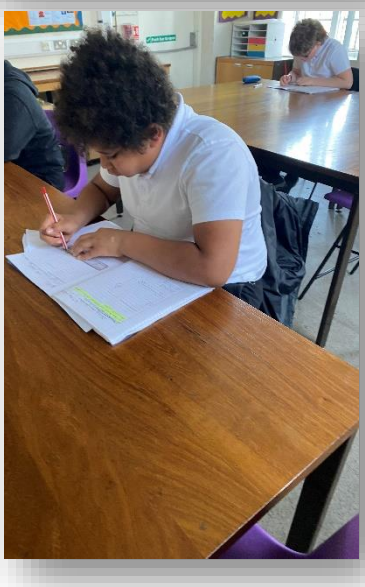
Headteacher's Update Friday 13 May

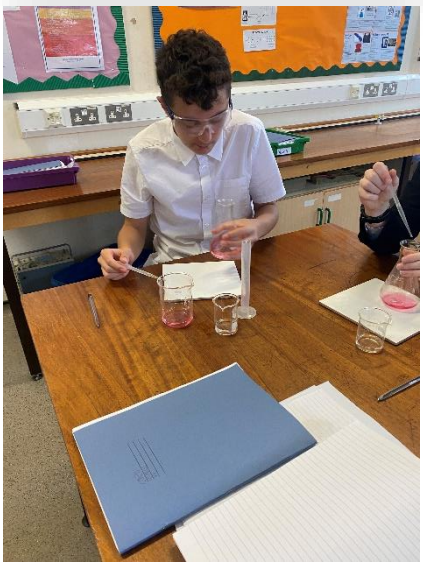
Dear Parents and Carers,

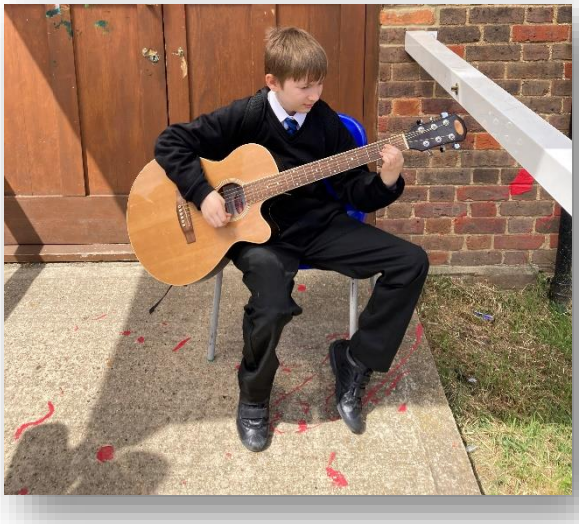
It was lovely to see so many of you attend the KS3 parent and carer consultation evening and speak to the teachers. It was a lovely, purposeful atmosphere and helps us to work together to ensure the students are making progress in their learning.

Formal exams are now underway for the Year 11 students with their first exam, English Language, taking place on Thursday 5th May. The exam went well and the Year 11 students behaved impeccably – the exams will run through until Thursday 23rd June. The final day in school for Year 11 will be Friday 24th June and mr Mach, Head of Year 11, will be contacting parents and carers to let them know about the planned activities taking place on that day to celebrate the end of their exams. Parents and carers should remember that the exam contingency day, set by JCQ, is Wednesday 29th June and students must be available to attend an exam that day if necessary.

Lessons in action







On Friday 27th May we will be celebrating the Queen's Jubilee which falls during half term. We will then be breaking up that day for half term at the usual time of 2 pm.

School breaks up for the summer term on Wednesday 20th July at 12:30 pm. Please could you ensure holidays are not booked during term time as these will be classed as an unauthorised absence.

Have a lovely weekend.

Mrs Ash
Headteacher