Falconer School

Achieving the extraordinary together

Headteacher's Weekly Blog Friday 30th April

Dear Parents and Carers,

Part of all school's continuous improvement journey is to obtain the views of the stakeholders of the school, namely students, parents and staff. I would therefore encourage all parents and carers to complete the survey that has been emailed to you – a hard copy will also be given next week if parents and carers would prefer to complete the survey this way.

The student council met this week to discuss matters concerning the students – the feedback is presented to the Senior Leadership team for discussion and to make any changes. A big thank you to Assistant Headteacher Ms Greenwood for organising the meetings and for the students who make up the council:

We have continued to embed the whole school literacy agenda through the use the Word of the Day, with this week's words being utilised effectively by the boys. Our words for next week are: honesty, acquaintance, boundaries and attitude. Alongside this, the new school library is almost ready to open with the last works being completed next week. The students will then benefit from having timetabled lessons in the library which are dedicated to promoting a love of reading – watch this space for the pictures next week!

Lessons this week:

Year 8 History

Year 7 Art

Year 7 Catering

Year 8 PE

Year 10 ICT

Year 7 PE

In addition to the students learning each week, on Wednesdays after school the teaching staff take part in training sessions. Here are some of the images from this week's training session which focused on:

- collaboration/team work
- planning
- resourcing
- literacy
- presenting
- differentiation

I hope you have a good bank holiday weekend and I look forward to another successful week of learning in school next week.
