Falconer School

Achieving the extraordinary together

Headteacher's Weekly Blog Friday 15th January

Dear Parents and Carers,

It has been another busy week for students in school and for students working remotely from home! It has been lovely to hear students engaging in virtual form times in the mornings.

As a reminder, I would like to encourage all parents who are Key Workers to send their child into school. For the full list of roles that are recognised as Key Worker roles please follow this link: https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/coronavirus-covid-19-maintaining-educational-provision/guidance-for-schools-colleges-and-local-authorities-on-maintaining-educational-provision

Do speak to your child's form tutor if you are a key Worker and would like your child to attend school or if they are having difficulties accessing remote learning.

Unfortunately, current levels of staff absence mean we are unable to fully open safely. We do hope to open the school to more students in the coming weeks. We are also exploring 'live lessons' so there is a more interactive experience for any students working from home – watch this space!

Do have a lovely weekend, I hope you and your families keep well.

Mrs Ash
