

Plumber

Plumbers install and repair water supply lines, waste disposal systems, and related appliances and fixtures to keep homes and businesses flowing smoothly. Being a plumber is physically demanding.

Salary: £10,000 to £80,000

Electrician

Electricians install and maintain all of the electrical and power systems for our homes, businesses, and factories. They install and maintain the wiring and control equipment through which electricity flows.

Salary: £10,000 to £80,000

Bricklayer

Bricklayer's work with clay bricks, concrete blocks and other types of building materials in mortar. You would construct and repair veneer and full brick construction, partitions, arches and other structures.

Salary: £10,000 to £50,000

Site Foreman

Site foreman is a person with specialist knowledge of a given trade who has moved into the position and is now focused on an overall management of his trade on the job site. He or she is responsible for providing proper documentation to his workers so they can proceed with tasks.

Salary: £41,000 to £60,000

Quantity Surveyor

A quantity surveyor (QS) is a construction industry professional with expert knowledge on construction costs and contracts. They are not to be confused with land surveyors. Services provided by a quantity surveyor may include: Cost consulting, cost estimating.

Salary: £52,000 to £70,000

Architect

Architects design all kinds of buildings. ... Before constructing a building, an architect needs to draw a plan of the building. Sometimes architects will make a cardboard or plastic model of the building.

Salary: £27,000 to £100,000